The rules of Roulette - different players use different coloured chips so the bets are not confused. The value of your chips is determined by the fun casino on the day (Usually 5's or 10's depending on the guest numbers to table amount).

When you're done playing at the roulette and wish to leave or play at another table, please redeem your chips in exchange for a Fun Casino Check so the chips can be used by other guests once you have left.

Each spin of the wheel provides a multitude of options for the player. A player may bet on single numbers, rows of numbers, or on adjacent numbers, as seen in the diagram above. A player also may play colours, odd or even numbers, among others. A bet on a single number pays 35 to 1, including the 0. Bets on red or black, odd or even pay 1 for 1, or even money.

Once the dealer spins the ball, you will make you last minute bets on the table before the dealer announces there are 'NO MORE BETS'. Then the ball will land on the number and the dealer will take away all losing bets and pay out in chips the bets who guessed the right number or outside bets. After this is done, we all go again.

The diagram indicates the Roulette rules payout for single chip bets and the many combinations available to you. The dealer will be happy to explain any of them. The exact placement of the chips determine the bet being made. Each player is responsible for the correct positioning of their wager on the layout regardless of whether the bet is placed by the dealer.
